

From Hopeless Endings to Infinite Hopes

Dal Bahadur Rai, a resident of Phidim Municipality, had his legs paralyzed after a life-altering fall from a cliff. His condition did not improve after years of treatment. Earlier, Wheelchairs from several organizations were provided to him but they eventually broke down with time.

Through the program (DPRP), he received a new wheelchair based on his needs and measurements. Rai's life was completely changed by the wheelchair which enabled him to move freely, bring his grocery, and make short distance trips without help. Through his involvement in community events and counseling as part of the program (DPRP), he has proved himself as a resilient and hopeful figure for people with disabilities.
