

Empowering Lives Through Vocational Training

Shanti Shrestha from Chaubise-1, Dhankuta, is a person with a physical disability and a member of the Milijuli group facilitated by the program (DPRP). Through her involvement in Milijuli, she began monthly savings and found a platform to share information and discuss disability and social issues.

Through Milijuli group, Shanti learned about vocational training for income enhancement. She chose to pursue sewing and tailoring training offered by the program (DPRP) and completed it with dedication. Afterward, she was employed at the same training center where she got a chance to apply her skills.

Today, Shanti earns a decent income, showcasing how opportunities and vocational training can empower individuals with disabilities.
