

Journey to a Better Life

Laden Sharma, born in Ilam, was diagnosed with autism. Despite trying different treatments, including a visit to different health facilities, her condition didn't improve much. Doctors suggested occupational therapy as a possible help. The big change came when the program (DPRP) started in Ilam. Through this program, Laden received a red disability card which gave her a monthly social security allowance from the government. She also received occupational therapy.

Laden's family became active members of Milijuli Group under the same program (DPRP). They took a loan from the program's seed money and started businesses like mushroom farming, poultry, and goat rearing. These businesses grew successfully.

The family's financial situation has improved a lot, bringing happiness and stability. They are grateful for the help from the program (DPRP), which has changed their lives and given them a better future.
